PAHOKEE -A long and hard battle has come to an end, as the Pahokee City Council agreed to adopt Ordinance 85-11 which provides for the increasing of water and sewer rates effective in January of '86.

Councilman Ronnie Graydon told council members, in a special meeting Tuedday, he members that the special meeting Tuedday had the tip suditors liast Friday and found there was no way to swid the rate increase.

"The bad news gets worse. We missed the 84-85 budget by $150,000," said Graydon, "If we had left the original gross figures alone-we would have been all right. We blew it," he said, "The codical had projected revenue totals of $540,913 for water and $558,000 for sewer. In stead their actual revenue from the two depart-times and their actual revenue from the two depart-times."

Basketball was the major sport in my home town. You played football to get in shape for roundhall season.

Our lack of enthusiasm drove many a football coach to the enchanted kingdom.

Spectators viewed our team much like Tamp Bay or New Orleans fans, except no one thought of wearing paper bags over their heads. If nothing else we were

If nothing else we were consistent and always lost.

As I have stated before I came from a very small town. Our high school had a fold enrollment of 52 students my smor year.

We played eight-man ban not eleven as most of you are used to seeing.

We did play one 11-man game but I liked the cight-man pame but one 11-man game but I liked the cight-man game better.

There were less people battering on you. I made an attempt at playing quarterback and can still feel the panting breath of the opposition on my back.

Merry Christmas

Well, that day, we wall been waiting for-ordering as the case may be-is almost upon us. Christmas Day is less than a week away.

This is our Christmas issue, even though there will be another edition coming out before Christmas. The holiday landing on Wednesday posed some problems; since that is the same day we publish. Rather than wait an extra day, we'll be printing on Tuesday, Christmas Eve. But, this being a big time for the people who are trained to the printing on Tuesday, Christmas Eve. But, this being a big time for the people who are trained by the common that the case of the ca

If your child is sticker crazy, hang a large sheet of removable, adhesive backed plastic on the door or wall before he or she puts any up. When he gets tired of some of them, they will peel right off.

To make even paralle rows for planting, use a wagon. Put a kid or two in it for weight or anything heavy and pull to make evenly spaced or ows.

If you lose the cap from a glue bottle, use a cap from a ball point pen.

Cold weather will surely be here some day, so before it arrives, even up the string ties in the kids 'hooded jackets and sew a few stitches at the center right through the string and the jacket fabric. No more pulled out tie strings.

Add elegance to your Christmas tree by covering tiny boxes with scraps of leftover wrapping paper. Tie up with ribbon and hang from the tree.

Word for the week: ADDLED. Example: Confused, disoriented, as in the case of Northern sociologists who try to make sense out of the South. Example: "What's wrong with that Yankee? He acts right addled."

Baker wins third championship in a row, defeats Glades Day 33-0

BELLE GLADE -The Baker Gators made history as they won their third consecutive Class A state championship and their 37th game in a row with a 33-0 win over the Glades Day Gators.

The 800 mile trek to Belle Glade didn't seem to slow the Baker offense least Friday night as they ran up 319 yards of rushing against the Glades Day defense.
Glades Day, on the other hand, could only muster 61 total yards of offense, and was guilty of coughing up four fumbles.

Baker not only defeated two AAA schools and four AA schools, during the season, but defeated DeFuniak Springe-Walton which won the AA title 7-0 over Wildwood last Friday. Wildwood had defeated Pahokee the week prior in regional play 60-0. Baker running backs Mitch Thames and Brian Wagmer showed the some 3,000 spectators how they had each runked for over 1,000 yards during the course of the season. Thames finished the game with 118 yards on 27 carries, and Wagner ran for 119.
